Headline:
Sunshine and showers, cold overnight.

Today:
A bright start, frosty in places but quickly warming up with sunny spells. Showers developing late morning and turning heavy at times during the afternoon. Possibly turning wintry over high ground in the west. Best of sunshine along the coasts. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will die away this evening to leave yet another clear, cold night. A touch of frost developing inland by dawn. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Sunday:
Similar to Saturday, showers developing during the morning and risk of hail in heavier bursts later. Showers easing into the evening, a touch of frost in prone rural locations overnight. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A dry and bright start to Monday, cloudy with widespread rain later and strong winds overnight, staying mild. Further blustery showers throughout Tuesday, turning sunnier but cooler on Wednesday.
